Your password will be sent to the above e-mail address.
Once you have received your new password you can login in and change it.

You will receive an e-mail with your password. The password can be changed later.

Use the Information from the email to log into the Marketing Support.
When you're logged in, you can change your password by clicking on "Your Details" in the User Menu and entering the new password.

As for security reasons we have restricted the access to the Marketing Support Items on the Main Menu. Therefore you won't be able to browse through the provided documents right after your registration.

After you've registered, the Administrator will get an email containing the information that a new registration has been made. The Admin will have to raise your security level manually in order to enable your account to browse through the Marketing

Support. This takes it's time, so please visit us again after a few hours, or contact the Administrator a few minutes after you've registered with JACOB Marketing Support.
